IN CASE YOU MISSED IT, check out the incredible WARRIOR ATHLETICS WEBINARS our student-athletes have been watching! We even had an Olympic (2008 & 2012) DHS Alumna in Christina Loukas speak to our student-athletes. We have amazing coaches and their insights are so important for high school student-athletes; but parents and younger athletes can benefit too! Visit <https://www.dist113.org/domain/85> for links to all the webinar recordings. THANK YOU to our DHS Coaches and Athletic Directors (Nate Flannery, Gayle Luehr, and Molly Tomlinson) for their creativity and non-stop commitment to the well-being and resilience of our student-athletes.

VENDOR SPOTLIGHT:

New each month we will try and share information about our community advertisers/partners. This month it is NorthShore University HealthSystem. A new Sports Cardiology program catering to high school and college athletes returning to activity after COVID-19 is now available through NorthShore's Cardiovascular Institute (CVI). Student-athletes and their parents are expressing growing concerns about myocarditis, an inflammation of the heart muscle that in very rare cases can occur after a viral infection, including the coronavirus, following the collapse of a University of Florida basketball player. Cardiologist Jason Robin, MD, who also serves as a consultant for the Illinois High School Association Sports Medicine Advisory Committee, has reassured parents that the risk of myocarditis for athletes who were asymptomatic or experienced only mild symptoms is very low. The new Sports Cardiology program is a great resource for students looking to see a cardiologist for clearance to return to sports and/or those who have moderate symptoms including persistent fevers, significant muscle aches or any cardio pulmonary symptoms and are advised to have a cardiac evaluation before beginning to exercise again. In addition to Dr. Robin, cardiologists Ronald Berger, MD, John Erwin, MD, Eli Lavie, MD, Brain Shortal, MD, and Michael Waligora, MD, will see patients at CVI Bannockburn, Evanston, Glenbrook, and Gurnee locations. The CVI team continues to remind the community that telehealth visits are now available and that all cardiology services have been modified to ensure patient safety as it critically important not to delay cardiovascular care during the ongoing pandemic. To make an appointment at the Sports Cardiology program, please call 847-657-1819 and press #1.

Remember to visit Waterway Carwash location for a safe and FREE Express Clean Carwash every Saturday and Sunday through March with a valid DHS School ID.
